WHEELING, OCTOBER 15, 1801.

Another Sensation Spoiled. The usually reliable New York Herald has just been convicted of publishing a lengthy piece of alleged news which not only does not contain a single item of truth, but furnishes a striking example of how unscrupulous even so great a Democratic journal as the Herald can become in its efforts to cast reproach on a Republican administration. Having failed by a campaign of villification and slander to induce the country to believe that Commissioner Raum has mismanaged the Pension Bureau, the Herald has turned its attention to the administration of the Census Bureau by Commissioner Por-

This time this self-constituted watch dog of the public treasury is not satisfied with the general charge and longexploded chestnut about the census being carelessly taken. It makes the more serious charge of gross mismanagement, if not dishonesty, in the handling of the expense account of the Bureau. In doing this the Herald collected under a Washington date an aggregation of falsehoods regarding the cost of the census which were so glaring that it is a wonder that anybody believed them.

Superintendent Porter, in a published statement, shows up the Herald's misstatements in such a way as to place that journal in a ridiculous position and to furnish the Republicans with an effective weapon with which to combat Democratic lies about the census. His statement is interesting. Here are some features of it:

The Herald charged that it will take four or five years to complete the work. Superintendent Porter says he will have it ready for the printer by the close of next year. The Herald said Congress has been asked for an appropriation of three million dollars, and with that the work can be half finished. Mr. Porter calls attention to his published report in which he only asks for one million with which he will complete all the Work.

The Herald said:

"The Superintendent of Census has three thousand of the small printing (punching) machines on which he owes $375,000, and has not paid a cent."

Mr. Porter shows that, instead of $375,000, the machines cost $15,000 and the office does not owe a cent on them.

The Herald said:

The Herald said:

"The Superintendent has one hundred and twenty of the larger machines on which he owes a year and half rent, which at $1,000 a year would be $180,000, making the total indebtedness of the hureau on these machines $555,000 and neither contract nor vouchers on file in the Treasury Department to show it."

Mr. Porter shows that the total indebtedness of the Census office for this purpose, "instead of being $555,000 as stated by the Herald, is not one dollar. The vouchers are paid every month. Such a sum is preposterous; if every machine contracted for was used for an entire year at full rental the total cost would only reach $75,000 per year. When machines are not used we do not pay for them."

Mr. Porter continues:

Mr. Porter continues:

The Recald says that the census of 1897 cost $1,000,000. The appropriations show that the census of 1889, exclusive of printing, binding and caquaving, cost $1,802,434, and the printing, hiading and enquaying $1,005,115, making a total of $5,871,463, at the cost of the census of 1893, including printing, hiading and enquaying the same says as a freedy cost one-third ance that the census has afreedy cost one-third ance that the census has afreedy cost one-third ance that the census proper, exclusive of printing, backing and an traving, has been expended for a summer of 1893. The appropriation thus her for the census proper, exclusive of printing, backing and an traving, has been expended for a summer of less $5,00,000, the control of printing and the control of the present census, unstead of normal suitably control of the properties. So, as a mater of leaf, the present census, instead of norming alticulty cost one-third more than the census of 1803, her cost $5,500,000, or about $1,000,000 more than the census of 1890, or a decrease of .22 ceaus per capita. As the population during this pended mis increase for a decrease of .22 ceaus per capita. As the population during this pended missing of the printing, binding and engraving. The increase from 1804 to 1890 was nearly one cent per capita. Allowing a similar increase for the last decade the cost of the present census, exclusive of printing, binding and engraving, and of the additional hughless required by Congress and appropriated for separately, should be census and have it ready for the printer for less than this same. Any other statement is false and misleading.

The increase from 1804 to 1800 to complete the census and have it ready for the printer for less than this same. Any other statement is false and misleading.

inisicading. The litraid says: The census appropriation has all been rpent, which is not true. There is to the credit of the several census funds $855,000, and the accounts of the office are all paid up to

Thus is another Democratic sensation spoiled. What was intended to show Republican incompetency has resulted in revealing Republican competency and official integrity.

Cook County Mortgages.

May be the "home market" folks can explain why the farmers of Cook county. His, have a mortgage debt of over $14,00,000. If they cannot keep out or debt with such a magnificent home market as Chicaco right in their midst, the outlook for the farmer in less populous counties and states is sorry, indeed.—Referer.

The above paragraph is misleading.

The above paragraph is misleading, and is calculated to deceive those who have not read the report of mortgage indebtedness on which it is based. The fact is that the mortgage debt of $14,-000,000 owed by Cook county farmers is not upon farm lands, but upon city property owned by them, and was contracted for purposes of improvements which have enhanced its value many times over. Chicago is in Cook county | lower figures. This sounds strange, but | 11 a.m.

and the farms that surround the city are not only among the most valuable in the world, but the farmers themselves are wealthy and prosperous.

Manufacture of Tin Plates in the United States .-- One Year Under the McKinley Bill.

The Bulletin of the American Iron and Steel Association is a recognized authority on all matters regarding the iron and steel trade in the United States, and is in no sense a partisan newspaper, although it holds protection views. is published by James M. Swank for the Iron and Steel Association, consequently its publications affecting that industry are authoritative. In its issue of October 7, the Bulletin contains the results of a careful inquiry into the growth of the tin plate industry in this country since the passage of the Me-Kinley bill: On August 1 a circular letter of inquiry was sent out by the association to the companies and firms then making or preparing to make tin plates, and secured the following information which we condense from the association's very full report:

No. 1—Somerton Tin Plate Works, Brooklyn, works nearly completed; daily product will be 500 boxes of tin plates; about 250 men will be employed;

The foregoing information brings the development of our tin plate industry down to September 26, 1891, and shows how rapid this new great industry is growing under the fostering protection thrown around it by the Republican party. The tin plate clause of the Me-Kinley bill has only been in force a little more than three months." Even in the light of the above definite information Democratic papers and politicians will continue to cry down the industry and ridicule American tin plate, at least until after the fall elections. But they are only making themselves ridiculcus, for the people have at their hands the evidences of the falsity of their assertions. It is a very easy matter for anybody to satisfy himself of the authenticity of the above publication by correspondence directly with the firms and companies, whose addresses

A roun among Wheeling retail stores will satisfy the most skeptical that our merchants are just as enterprising, offer as fair prices and keep as stylish stocks as well as varied an assortment of goods as can be found in the stores of any city in the country. There is no reason why Wheeling people should go elsewhere to do their shopping, but many of them do so. The idea that they cannot satisfy their wants at home is based on a false impression. There are citizens of Wheeling who will pay railroad fare to other cities to purchase at a fancy price the identical goods their home merchants offer them for a it is true. One of the ways to help the growth of the city is to patronize home merchants. Consuit the advertising columns of the INTELLIGENCER "before going elsewhere."

Tun Sabbath Observance Association of Pittsburgh is evidently bent on making its work as unpopular as possible. It is carrying matters to an extreme when it proposes to interfere with the Sunday and Monday newspapers because some of the labor on these two issues is necessarily done between the hours of 12 o'clock Saturday night and 12 o'clock Sunday night. In making war on the newspapers the Sabbatarians are antagonizing their friends, for no moral agency has greater power and uses it to a better advantage for the public good than the daily press. Without the support of the press the Sabbatarians will accomplish very little in the direction of Sunday reform.

THE Republican Senate of Pennsylva nia is going about the work of investigating the alleged crookedness of the State officials in a manner which gives assurances that the Democrats who have predicted a whitewash will be disappointed. Without even holding a caucus they have resolved to adopt a strictly non-partisan mode of procedure. The indications are that the inquiry will be of such a character as to entitle the Republican party to a very large share of the credit which Governor Pattison fondly hoped would belong entirely to him.

THE Register's drives at the Main street bridge contractors seem to indicate that somebody is making an attempt to shift the responsibility for the delay, in getting a bridge across the creek, from the shoulders of the Democratic city administration, where it belongs. Council extended the time to the contractors, and the contractors should not be blamed for accepting the extension. The latter have probably been doing the best they could under the adverse circumstances they have encountered

THE MINORITY REPORT

Of the Pennsylvania Legislative Committoe-A Partisan Plea.

HARRISBURG, PA., Oct. 14.-Messrs Fow and Skinner, two of the three minority members of the legislative investigating committee that has been engaged in examining into the affairs of the Auditor General and State Treasurthe Auditor General and State Treasur-er's offices, filed with Governor Patti-son to-day their protest against the preliminary report of the majority of the committee filed yesterday. the present examination of the two offices by that body.

Messrs. Skinner and Fow dissent from the report of the majority for the reason that the committee has not in their judgment concluded its labors, and more especially because of the abrupt manner in which the proceedings have been discontinued; that a more searching and exhaustive examination should be made without limit as to individuals or time: that insuffices ination should be made without limit as to individuals or time; that insufficient time was allowed by the majority to make a satisfactory analysis of the evidence and deduce fair, reasonable and proper conclusions therefrom; that there have been long and unnecessary adjournments of the committee and that important facts have but recently been developed; that it is an exhibition of indecent haste and the conclusion will be entitled to little weight; that the conclusions regarding the official conduct of State Treasurer Boyer and Auditor General McCamantare not warranted by the resolutions under which ranted by the resolutions under which the committee is acting; that it is not within the scope of the committee to pass upon the guilt or innocence of any one now under investigation, but the majority having touched upon that subject the minority calls the governor's attention to that which the evidence dis-
